

Open Textbook Production

For more information, visit MacEwan Open Books or email digitalscholarship@macewan.ca

Getting Started

Have you explored open textbooks in your subject area?

Yes

No

Visit the Library's Textbook Affordability Program page or contact your Subject Librarian

Are you familiar with developing openly licensed resources?

Yes

No

Review the MacEwan Open Textbook Authoring Guide

Are you confident to begin creating an open textbook?

Yes

No

Request a Pressbooks account. Along with account creation, a member of the Library team will schedule a brief training session with you.

Pre-production Phase

Are you ready to map out your project?

Yes

No

Develop project timeline

Draft outline & style guide

Apply for funding, if needed

Recruit collaborators, if needed

Do you have a plan & enough support?

Yes

No

For guidance, email digitalscholarship@macewan.ca

Design Phase

Develop content

Find copyright-friendly media to include, if needed

Need help? Email copyright@macewan.ca

Is your content complete?

Yes

Development Phase

Write/revise content

Get peer review feedback

Are major revisions complete?

Yes

No

(Move content into Pressbooks if drafting in MS Word)

Copy edit once content is complete.
*Be sure to check accessibility, citations, & copyright attributions

Publishing Phase

Configure Pressbooks Export options, Book Info, & book cover

Review the Open Textbook Completion Checklist

Email digitalscholarship@macewan.ca to make your work public

Maintain a Versioning History chapter to record future edits

ATTRIBUTION: Content adapted by Robyn Hall from OER Workflow v.1.1 created by Billy Meinke and University of Hawai'i at Mānoa Outreach College, licensed under a CC BY 4.0. International license.

